

Bank Sohar in Support of National Football Team. Free Tickets to the Match

Bank Sohar has announced an avant-garde overture to provide support for the National Football Team when they meet Kuwait in the Asian Cup Qualifiers' on Wednesday March 3. The Bank's wholehearted support to the 'Reds' will involve and include the Bank's customers all over the country.

Bank Sohar will make a bulk purchase of tickets for the Qualifier Cup Match and then distribute it to their customers free-of-charge through their branch network. Customers may avail of this offer by approaching the Bank with their customer identity and avail of a great opportunity to be at the stadium to cheer the Oman team. The tickets will be available to customers on a first-come first-take basis.

“We are pioneering this initiative to encourage and enliven our home team and to be there for them. We are involving our customers as well by making tickets available to them to be present at the match. The presence of supporters will energise the Oman team and enable them to give their best,” said Khalfan Rashid Al Tal'ey DGM – Retail, Bank Sohar. “We hope that our pioneering initiative in being there for our National team will spur others to support our champions. A stadium full of supporters is what the Oman team needs.” Concluded Al Taley.
